

Capital Vault Incorporated – CVI Portfolio Review

Although the CVI Portfolio and CVI-Options are considerable, and more information is presented in the Portfolio menu and corresponding articles of Capital Vault Incorporated, a short intention review concerning the CVI Core Values, the Values and the Principals and so on, may be helpful. These articles are not meant to be an exhaustive list, but more of a structure of principals that is a lot like the Public Notice of what we do not do or act like, in addition to what general and specific things are encompassed.

For those who appreciate a well defined vision with a solid foundation to build with potential, this endeavour, as a dynamic operating system that is presented, does hopefully establish the character, credibility and capacity, with a natural resiliency and fortitude against corrosive elements, in addition to a revitalized outlook dedicated to continuous improvement. We hope to continue to add value on a national scale. It is our belief that if we can work to build great things together with the right and solid foundation, we will create the new golden age that honours faith, freedom, family and free enterprise. A civilization with vision, hope and vitality.

It is possible to create an alternate reality, a world of real capital and equity, with greater savings, spending and investment capacity, including time, since the only real equality is time. Freedom with health and wealth, enabled with private property and property in trust, as we are stewards and trustees of something greater. Having the freedom to choose with relevant options based on personal rights and responsibilities, can produce something more than human, something super human. This is necessary for the next stage of human growth, consciousness and development.

We can go forward and advance, we can each choose life with a better way of living, we can work to build solid relationships everywhere and in everything we do. We can each choose to do this at a local, personal and private level, as it is and represents a worthwhile and noble venture, “stand on guard for Canada with made in Canada”. In our effort to enable, provide or utilize innovative business and capital solutions, our awareness and capacity grows with our intention to make a difference. We can each step forward in the direction of our dreams where we can live with heart and soul, as we may each realize that our lives will never be the same again. This opportunity is extremely rare, the time we are in is urgent, we each can focus on what we can do, what we do like and fulfill our true purpose and destiny.

F:(Revue_du_portfolio)